£320,000.00 REFURBISHED HISTORIC
CLOCK TOWER, WHICH FORMS THE FOCAL POINT OF THIS £100MILLION HOUSING PROJECT.

Craymanor Ltd worked closely with Mike Ellis MCIQB, Bellway Homes Project Director to completely refurbish both the exterior and interior of this historic Clock Tower, which formally served Hither Green Hospital at Hither Green Lane, South East London.

The Clock Tower prior to its refurbishment was in a sorry state, had not been touched for many years, had severe structural movement and was infested with pigeons.

The project was undertaken by Craymanor Ltd directly for Bellway Homes. Every aspect of the building was refurbished including the external elevations with brick cleaning and re-pointing throughout. The clock dials themselves were removed, refurbished, painted and gold gilded and the clock mechanism was bought up to modern day standards and linked to the automated clock service at Rugby.

It was important to the client, local authority planning office and local conservation groups that the Tower retained its historic appeal and all of the original features including the original water tanks have been retained. The upper floors have been kept in their original form with the lower floors now operating as management and security offices and a possible museum. The Tower itself now forms the focal point for Meridian South, a £100million project being undertaken by Bellway Homes and once completed will be the centrepiece with a main piazza area, offering a fantastic amenity to the residents at Meridian South, Hither Green, South London.

It is a testament to the hard work and the full understanding of the client's requirements that Craymanor Ltd completed this project in several months and to an exceptional standard. Indeed, the defects liability period has just expired and snagging items have consisted of shrinkages in decorations and took less than half a day for one man to complete.

This project was a fantastic opportunity for Craymanor Ltd to demonstrate their expertise in this type of refurbishment in which we were invited to tender because we held Chartered status with the Chartered Institute of Building.

This Victorian water tower which was refurbished at a cost of in excess of £320,000.00 is now one of a long list of specialist projects undertaken by Craymanor Ltd in its eighteen year history, indeed at present, Craymanor Ltd are also undertaking the refurbishment of the MENCAP building in Dartford, Kent directly for the client offering fantastic facilities for the disabled, including dance studios, hairdressing, aromatherapy and computer training with a value in excess of £400,000.00 together with many other commercial projects and domestic extensions varying in cost of between £30,000.00 and £150,000.00.
